New Regulations for Temporary Detention Orders (TDO's) and Emergency Custody Orders (ECOs)

The purpose of this memorandum is to inform providers that effective July 1, 2014 the duration of a TDO has increased from 48 to 72 hours prior to the TDO hearing. The duration of an emergency custody order (ECO) shall be valid for a period not to exceed eight hours from the time of execution from the law enforcement officer.

If the 72-hour period terminates on a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or day on which the court is lawfully closed, the individual may be detained, until the close of business on the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or day on which the court is lawfully closed. This extension does not change the current policy that TDO does not cover the day of the hearing.

If an ECO has been issued, and the individual is detained in a state facility, an employee or designee of the community services board may, for an additional four (4) hours, continue to attempt to identify an alternative facility that is able and willing to provide temporary detention and appropriate care to the individual.

MINORS UNDER A TDO

A minor is defined as less than eighteen years of age. The duration of temporary detention shall not exceed 96 hours prior to the TDO hearing. If the 96-hour period terminates on a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or day on which the court is lawfully closed, the minor may be detained, as herein provided, until the close of business on the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or day on which the court is lawfully closed. The minor may be released, before the 96-hour period herein specified has run.

MANAGED CARE ORGANIZATIONS

Many Medicaid recipients are enrolled with one of the Department's contracted Managed Care Organizations (MCO). In order to be reimbursed for services provided to an MCO enrolled individual, providers must follow their respective contract with the MCO. The MCO may utilize different prior authorization, billing, and reimbursement guidelines than those described for Medicaid fee-for-service individuals. For more information, please contact the MCO directly. Additional information about the Medicaid MCO program can be found at http://www.dmas.virginia.gov/Content_pgs/mc-home.aspx.
